MERN Developer

FX Bytes

📍 Indore

- As an Intern MERN Stack Developer at fxByte, I gained six months of hands-on experience in full-stack web development utilizing MongoDB, Express.js, React.js, and Node.js (MERN) stack. In this role, I collaborated with team members to design, develop, and maintain web applications, leveraging my skills in front-end and back-end development. I was responsible for implementing RESTful APIs, managing databases with MongoDB, and ensuring seamless communication between the client-side and server-side components. Additionally, I actively contributed to troubleshooting and debugging efforts to maintain the high performance and reliability of our applications
